COOKIE POLICY

Fameccanica.Data S.p.A. ("Fameccanica") uses anonymous cookies that do not allow the identification of site visitors and just registers the date and time of access, geographic origin, operating system language, and used browser.

The technology employed by Fameccanica is Google Analytics, having deactivated the advertising features, so Fameccanica will not receive any information about age, sex and interests of the anonymous user accessing Fameccanica site.

As the technology used by Fameccanica is owned by Google Inc. and being Fameccanica only the end user of the collected data, the user must contact directly Google Inc. to find out what further processing is being made on the data and whether the anonymous information collected through the Fameccanica site allows the personal identification of the user or not. Alternatively, a request to that effect can be made by the user to Fameccanica (indicating IP number, date and time of access) which will forward it to Google Inc. In that case, Fameccanica will inevitably be aware of the identity of the user, but will only treat this data for the purpose of submitting the request to Google Inc., sole owner of the personal data processing.

Fameccanica informs the user that cookie management is possible through a plug-in provided by Google Inc. at this address: <https://code.google.com/p/google-opt-out-plugin/>. The user acknowledges that Fameccanica does not assume any obligations or responsibilities regarding the connection update and its proper functioning.
